To Whom It May Concern,

As the owner of a private company which is vulnerable to the dynamic financial environment, it is essential for the vibrancy of our company that we entrust the services of an ethical and professional financial advisor to guide us appropriately. On that note I am pleased to assert that Option One has provided our organisation with the leadership, guidance and support that has been second to none.

Over the past 10 years I have not only entrusted Rod Cummings and his exceptional staff with guiding our company, however I have also relied on his services for myself and members of my family.

I have found Rod and his team to be very different in their approach to other services that I experienced in the past. I really feel like my best interests are at heart and at no time have I ever felt like just another customer. I am very delighted to pronounce that Rod has in many ways become like an extended member of our family. Rod and his team never flounder at a challenge. They are rigorous and always ready to take a challenge head on, this is something that I am very appreciative of and respect them greatly for.

Option One in my view is the only option when seeking professional, personable and ethical financial advice.

Yours sincerely,

Susan Carey
