

It gives me the greatest of pleasure to give this testimonial for Option One Financial Partners. I meet Rod Cumming via business networking about ten years ago as I work in real estate Option One Financial Partners helped many of our clients achieve their financial goals. Dealing with Rod on a nearly day to day basis it was only natural that after being treated badly by our bank who had issued my husband and I with an account manager that turned out to be stealing from the bank and latter charged with this crime that we no longer felt the bank had our best interest in mind. So we turned to a man that we felt that we could totally trust with our financial needs.

So our first transaction with Option One Financial Partners was to refinance our home. Rod excelled in his job he made us feel that we were his only clients and that application for refinance was made just so easy. In fact that transaction was so easy that two years later we turned to Option One Financial Partners to once again help us achieve owing an investment property and again this transaction was again a breeze. Option One gave us different options on different loans and gave us the choice of what would suit our personal needs. Again too easy.

As a client I never make anything easy last year we decided to buy a block of land but the day we put the deposit on the land we were flying out on holiday so you guessed it in a panic I rang Option One Financial Partners gave Rod the great news that we had just purchased a block of land then dropped the bomb that we would be on holiday for the next two weeks but I had all the confidence in the world that Rod Cumming would take care of all whilst we had fun in the sun. True to Rod's word when we got back from holiday the loan was all ready for us to just sign on the dotted line.

This last transaction was so easy but here is the best bit of all we now get discounts on our master card, home insurance, car insurance, medical insurance, life insurance and extra interest on our banking account what more could a client ask for not only the loan that suits our personal needs but actually saves money. Option One, Rod you really do excel at finance solutions for your clients and we know that our financial needs are looked after with the attention to detail that only you can give.

Thanks Rod and the team at Option One Financial Partners without you all we would never achieved all the dreams but you made them all a reality.

Yours sincerely
